WASHINGTON, June 9.—Senator McPherson of New Jersey is quite ill. His ailment is said to be some affection of the stomach or the nerves.

SCENE OF BEAUTY WAS THE WEDDING.

DETAILS OF THE JOHNSON- CASSODAY NUPTIALS.

Pretty Girls Surround the Bride at the Altar—Handsome Reception by Justice and Mrs. Cassoday—Scores of Gifts Bestowed, Many Being of Rare Beauty.

Hundreds in Janesville are interested in the details of the Cassoday-Johnson wedding. Nearly a thousand of Madison's most prominent people attended the ceremony. It was an ideal spring wedding evening; the air was cool and a pale crescent moon shone in the western sky. The guests arrived early and some time before the hour appointed for the ceremony every seat in the auditorium of the First Congregational church was filled. Among the guests were Governor and Mrs. Peck, justices and ex-judges of the supreme court and their wives, many university professors, prominent business men, college friends and friends generally of the bride and groom.

The altar of the church was elaborately decorated being canopied with graceful festoons of maiden-hair ferns and amilax dotted with yellow roses. Inside and about this enchanting bower were huge bouquets of pink peonies and many palms. In the center of the church, directly in front of the altar, sat the members of the Cassoday and Johnson families. On the right of the altar were seated the sisters of the bride in Delta Gamma, comprising the active members of the local chapter. On the left were the groom's brothers in Rho Kappa Upsilon, comprising the active members of the local chapter.

Preceded by Ribbon Boys.

Precisely at 8 o'clock W. G. Sired stepped into the organ loft and in a minute, to the sweet strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, the wedding party began its march through the aisles of the church. The ushers came in from the rear and met the bridesmaids approaching from the front of the church through the doors at either side of the altar. The ushers and bridesmaids were preceded by the ribbon boys, Master Harry Wheelock, of South Bend, Ind., and Master Gerald Peck, grandson of the governor, who stretched white satin ribbons along the center of the church through which the procession passed. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Etta Hanchett, of Janesville, cousin of the bride, and the best man, Mr. Hobart S. Johnson, brother of the groom. The latter came from the front of the church followed by the groom. Close behind the maid of honor were the two sweet little flower girls, Miss Jean Wheelock, of South Bend, Ind., and Miss Clark, of Duluth, Minn., nieces of the bride. All eyes were watching the main entrance to the church through which Miss Cassoday was soon to enter. She came in, a symphony in white, looking steadfastly at the altar and smiling pleasantly. A handsome, happier appearing bride is seldom seen. Rev. E. J. Urdike was standing directly in front of the altar and before him the young couple placed themselves, surrounded by the other members of the wedding party. While soft music came from the organ Dr. Urdike performed the solemn ceremony which made Mr. Johnson and Miss Cassoday man and wife.

Costumes Very Beautiful.

The bride's dress was of ivory satin trimmed with duchess lace and pearl passanterie. A tulle veil hung from her head nearly to the floor. She carried a large bunch of bride roses. The maid of honor wore a rich white organdy, with accordion pleatings and carried lilies of the valley. Miss Johnson and Miss Bashford wore white organdy figured in heliotrope with green and heliotrope ribbons and carried sweet peas. Miss Taylor and Miss Main were dressed in white organdy figured in green and carried pale yellow fleur de lis. Miss Morrison and Miss Gernon wore pure white organdy and carried white carnations. Miss Owen and Miss Bunn wore white organdy figured in pink and carried peonies. The flower girls were beautifully clad in white satin and carried white roses. The reception was one of the most elaborate and beautiful ever seen in Madison. The Cassoday home was all flowers and fragrance. Justice and Mrs. Cassoday and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Johnson received the guests at the left of the entrance to the parlor, and in a flowery alcove opposite, amid amilax and daisies, the bride and groom greeted friends and were themselves showered with congratulations. The house was thronged till 10 o'clock. The orchestra discoursed music from a tented pavilion on the lawn, which was illumined and beautified with Chinese lanterns.

Gifts Were Very Handsome.

In a large room upstairs the gifts of the popular bride were displayed—and such a dowry of souvenirs, useful and ornamental, from loving relatives and friends a Madison bride has seldom had. Three large tables barely contained the choice silver collection, conspicuous in which was a superb gift of several dozen knives, forks and spoons from the parents of the groom. Here also was a handsome bank check from Justice Cassoday. Another table was loaded with cut glass, a pretty platter coming from the Delta Gamma girls. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston's magnificent present of decorated plates was notable even among the score of beautiful things in painted ware. There were several lace handkerchiefs, a pretty clock, some gold coins from Dr. William Jacobs, a graceful picture from Jesse Spaulding, of Chicago, a great uncle of the bride, pleasing remembrances from Governor and Mrs. Peck and the various members of the supreme court. The "Wedding Hymn," a dainty volume in white, written by Mrs. Charles Kendall Adams, and presented by her, two or three birdseye stands, landscapes, etchings and plaques galore and nearly 200 other gifts, including a large and beautiful lamp on an onyx pedestal.

GOES BACK TO NORWAY.

Axtel Thoraby Has Had All the Democratic Times That He Wants.

Axtel Thoraby, a well known mechanic, and his family, left Beloit today for Norway, their former home. The Free Press says: "We rather expect that it won't be many years before Mr. Thoraby returns to Beloit, for he is still fond of America, even if he does leave the country."

Too much democratic administration is doing for this country what was never done before, turning the tide of immigration eastward.

JANESVILLE SIR KNIGHTS TO ATTEND THE CONCLAVE.

Eminent Commander T. W. Goldin Will Take a Force to the Cream City That Will Be a Credit to His Organization—Beloit Will Send Forty Uniformed Men.

Janesville Knights Templar will have a pleasant time in Milwaukee at the annual convocation next week. On Monday about sixty uniformed members of Janesville Commandery No. 2, accompanied by their ladies will leave at 4:45 p. m. by a Northwestern special for Milwaukee, to be absent until Friday. The Janesville Commandery will be in command of Eminent Commander T. W. Goldin, who has devoted much time to qualifying his command for this special occasion.

On Tuesday there will be a grand parade in Milwaukee, in which all the commanderies of Wisconsin will participate, and it is expected that between fifteen hundred and two thousand Sir Knights will be in line.

Janesville's commandery is one of the largest and best disciplined in the state, excelled only by the Milwaukee commandery, and local Sir Knights are making special efforts to maintain their place beyond question.

Beloit commandery will have forty to fifty uniformed members in the parade. Entertainments will be given at Masonic hall, Turner hall, Exposition building and at Whitefish bay during the week.

FLAC RAISED AMID CHEERS

Grand Army Men Take an Active Part in Afton.

Rev. J. D. Cole accompanied the Grand Army men to Afton and delivered the address at the flag raising. There was music by W. H. Sargent drum corps; a song, "The Battle Cry of Freedom;" instrumental duet, by Harry Bixby and Miss Myrtle Eldredge, and an original poem of stirring sort by U. G. Waite. There were remarks by Frank Starr and S. C. Burnham, recitations by children from the Afton school and several musical selections. The delegation from Janesville included J. B. Green, P. S. Fenton, E. C. Carter, M. L. Weaver, C. D. Child, S. C. Burnham, W. G. Palmer, C. H. Smith, A. S. Lee, W. H. Witham, Frank Pellant, John Kruse, William V. Morrison, A. F. Hall, C. T. Shepherd, L. H. Lee, Martin Halverson, Frank Robinson, A. C. Anderson and Mr. Walker.

The Eighth Wonder of the World.

May truly be said to be the Masonic Temple building, Chicago, Ill., erected at a cost of four and one-half millions of dollars; it towers above all other high buildings, being twenty-one stories high and three hundred and two feet above the sidewalk level.

The summer roof garden on this lofty structure is now open and includes many attractions.

FLINT GULLS ROCKFORD FOLK

The Mesmerist in His Glory Only Thirty Miles Away.

Funny that no Janesville people go down to Rockford to see "Prof." Herbert Flint, the mesmerist. The "professor" made such an impression here that his name will never be forgotten. He seems to be having a softer time in Rockford than he had here, for none of the company have as yet exposed him. The Daily Republican says confidently:

"There is no humbug about Prof. Flint, the mesmerist who is holding forth at the opera house this week. He can put the strongest man to sleep in a very few seconds. He closed the optics of Henry Ronkar, Joe Knodle, Frank Lake and Dan Dever last night and they are good husky young men too. He had a dozen able bodied men and six women slumbering in their chairs on the stage at one time."

TOBACCO BUYERS IN ORFORDVILLE

Several Dealers Have Been in the Neighborhood—Assessor's Work Finished.

ORFORDVILLE, June 8.—Several tobacco buyers have been around lately. L. N. Bowles is finishing up his work as assessor of Spring Valley. Mr. Wright, of Monticello, acted as station agent during Dan Move's absence, who went to Green Bay on Monday as a delegate from Waupesa lodge, to the meeting of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. The new flag for the school has been purchased. It will be raised and dedicated with appropriate exercises as soon as practicable.

PAIR OF WEE FRAUDS WORKING THE TOWN

TWO LITTLE GIRLS SELLING BOGUS JEWELRY.

Coming Here From Madison They Try to Unload Some Alleged Wedding Rings Worth About Twenty-Five Cents a Dozen—Their Story Told With Great Skill.

The police were warned this afternoon that two little girls, believed to be frauds, were canvassing the city for charity. They said their father could not get work and the family was starving. They had a little basket which contained several pieces of jewelry, one of which they said was a wedding ring of their mother's and was worth at least $5, but if they could get $1 for four they would let it go and redeem it. They tried hard to sell the ring at a First ward house, but the lady saw that it was brass, very lightly washed, and worth about twenty-five cents a dozen for hanging curtains.

The girls were dressed precisely alike, in red. They worked the same game in Madison, and are evidently under the direction of some older person.

FIELD'S MINSTRELS WERE PRAISED

Fair-Sized Audience Greeted the Company Last Evening.

Modern minstrelsy finds no better interpreter than A. G. Field. An audience that made the ticket-seller smile heard the songs and jokes last night and pronounced a favorable verdict. Field's company this year is the realization of several years of practical experience and study. The entertainment is built upon entirely new lines and yet retains a genuine flavor of real negro minstrelsy.

Johnson's Oriental soap is the most delicate facial soap for ladies in existence. Sold at Smith's Pharmacy.

The Yellow Glow of the Horizon, Painted on the sky by the setting sun, is beautiful. Not so the yellow glow of a face tinged with bile. And oh! the unspeakable discomfort that bile in the wrong place produces. Twinges in the right side and under the right shoulder blade, nausea, vertigo, sick headache, constipation, faulty digestion. Not in an instant can the symptoms of biliousness be dispelled, but persistence in the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitter will eradicate them, restore digestion and regularity of the bowels, and counteract tendencies to more aggravated complaints, which an interruption of these functions begets. Rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, neuralgia, and inability to sleep, are also remedied by the genial preventative and restorative of nerve force and tranquility. As an antidote to the poison of malaria, it is unfailing and prompt. A wine-glassful three times a day.

P. of essor Birkholz, the German hair special-ist, who has made a wonderful success of curing baldness and causing the hair to grow thick on heads of ladies and gentlemen, has a large business established in the Masonic Temple, Chicago, and with his assistants will give his attention to those who are in need of hair. The professor will examine your scalp free of charge, and should he find that the follicles are not destroyed or the pores of the scalp not closed, your case will be pronounced curable, but where the head is sick and shiny there is no cure. Call and see him or write him 1011 Masonic Temple Chicago.

Hand this notice to any first class druggist and he will get the remedy for you at once, if he has not got it in stock.

Celebrators Enthusiastic.

Darien's business men and citizens have raised a large sum of money and are pushing matters to have one of the best celebrations ever held in Walworth county. Every one is enthusiastic and trying to see how well they can do. Fine speakers, good ball and other games, a brass band, and several very fine horse races are going to be held. The fire works at night will alone pay for a long ride to see. It is predicted that five thousand people will be in the village upon that day.

PIANO VOTES THICK OUT IN THE COUNTY.

OUT-OF-TOWN CONTESTANTS
DO LIVELY WORK.

Time Is Growing Short and on June 30
Some Fortunate Young Lady Will Receive From The Gazette as Fine a Piano as Can Be Bought in the City.

As the end of the piano contest draws near interest grows intense.
There has been surprise in the last few days over the gain made by candidates outside of the city. Milton, Afton, Clinton and Edgerton each have contestants enrolled and several townships are also represented.
Throughout the county vigorous canvassing for votes is being done.

All question as to the quality of The Gazette prize has died out. The first Shaw pianos were placed on the market less than five years ago. Instantly the trade recognized their merits and put in bids for territory until at this time these instruments can be seen almost everywhere. S. C. Burnham & Co. of this city have for years been representing other first-class pianos but have been won by the construction, tone and quality of this new aspirant for honors so today they are bending all their energies in favor of the Matchless Shaw as it is termed. With no remorse of conscience they claim it is the finest piano they have ever represented.

With such a piano as a prize is it any wonder that the contest now going on is attracting universal attention? The candidates and the terms of the offer are as follows:

Ainslie, Tina
Baker, Bessie
Baldwin, L. M.
Clifford, Alice M.
Eldredge, Rose B.
Ennis, Mary
Frink, May
Foster, Lillie
Gifford, Alice V.
Gibbs, Maria J.
Holt, Ellen Hugett, Miss Olive
Hayward, Minnie
Kenyon, Cora
Kastner, Alice
Loucks, Franc
Nichols, Ida
Peters, Nellie
Pease, Bashie K.
Randall, Carrie M.
Wright, Ada V.

1. Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they can buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the coupon.

2. The lady who receives the largest number of votes will receive as good and beautiful a piano as the Shaw Piano company can make.

3. The contest will close June 30, at 9 p. m. Piano will be delivered as soon as the counting of votes is completed.

4. Any person who will bring the Gazette one new subscriber paid in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six
months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

Excursion to Denver, Colorado.
The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will sell excursion tickets to the American Institute of Homeopathy to be held June 14 to 22. The rates are open to all. First class service and quick time via Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway.

life."

SEVERE EXPOSURE

Often results in colds, fevers, rheumatism, neuralgia and kindred derangements. We do not "catch cold" if we are in good condition. If the liver is active, and the system in consequence doing its duty, we live in full health and enjoy life "rain or shine." To break up a cold there's nothing so valuable as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They keep the whole system regulated in a perfectly natural way. If we do not feel happy, if we worry and grumble, if we are morbid, if the days seem dreary and long, if the weather is bad, if things go awry, it is the liver which is at fault. It is generally "torpid." A common sense way is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. We generally eat too much, take insufficient exercise, by means of which our tissue-changes become indolent and incomplete. Be comfortable—you are comfortable when well. You'll be well when you have taken "Pleasant Pellets."
No Constipation follows their use. Put up sealed in glass—always fresh and reliable.

CAN'T AVERT THE EVIL.

That the republicans will make no attempt to delay the tariff bill for the mere purpose of delay appears to be a safe supposition. The republicans see clearly by this time that there would be no gain, economic or partisan, in such a course. Uncertainty is worse than any tariff measure which the democrats yet proposed would be, and the sooner this ends and the industries affected are given a chance to adjust themselves to the new conditions the better. As there is no possibility of defeating the bill, or of making it any less objectionable to the industrial interests than it will be in the shape which it will take when all the recently agreed upon amendments are tacked on to it, there would be no justification for the republicans to impede the bill beyond the time necessary for reasonable deliberation and discussion.

The tariff uncertainty is costing the government $1,000,000 a day, and the country a good deal more than that; but the sugar trust is making money—and so are the democratic senators who are speculating in its stock.

The simple truth about silver in an international aspect is that no foreign country can be bulldozed into an increased use of it, and any experiment of that kind would be sure to prove an absurd failure.

A man of science says that nearly 100 kinds of sugar are known. The fact should be kept from congress, for the country would go everlasting to ruin while it was dealing with the other ninety-nine.

The democratic senators have manifested so much sympathy with protection during the present session that a good many republicans are beginning to wonder if the doctrine isn't of doubtful origin after all.

It will be observed that no senator who is suspected of crookedness in the sugar matter has yet said a word in favor of open sessions of the investigating committee.

There is an abundance of currency in the country for all legitimate business purposes, if the democrats would only quit their foolishness, and let it circulate in a safe and profitable way.

Governor Peck doesn't "enthuse" much over that third term.

TO HOLD 4,000,000 VOLUMES.

The New Library Building at Washington the Largest Known of Its Kind.

In round numbers the national library of the United States contains 700,000 bound volumes and 200,000 pamphlets, all of which at present are crowded into a room in the capitol—a room which was full fifteen years ago, according to Kate Field's Washington. Yet the accumulation has gone on until there is barely room to walk about in the library itself, while a dozen rooms elsewhere in the building are filled to overflow. With the need in plain sight it took congress several years to make up its mind to erect a library building, but finally in April 1886, it decided to do it. A site was chosen on Capitol hill directly east of the capitol itself, and $550,000 was appropriated for its purchase. Forty or fifty buildings had to be removed before excavation could be made for the foundation. It took 2,700 feet of fencing twelve feet high to enclose the ground, and it was nearly four years after the fence was built before any part of the building was visible over its top. There is a great deal of the library—470 feet long by 340 feet wide. It covers 111,000 square feet of ground and will be 140 feet in height from the ground to the top of the dome when finished. That is, next to the capitol, it will be the largest edifice in Washington and the largest library building in the world.

When congress did decide to do the work it was pleased to have it done well. The utmost care was used in securing a firm foundation, and the best of material has been put into the superstructure. All the material is of home manufacture except the white enameled brick. When the contract was made in 1888 no enameled brick was made in this country—certainly not in sufficient quantities. Several states are represented in the construction of the library building. New Hampshire and Maryland furnish the granite; the structural iron work came from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Indiana, the ordinary brick are made within the District of Columbia, and the floor-tiling comes from Massachusetts and Vermont. "The new library building," declares Mr. Spoford, "will suffice for 150 years to come. When finished it will hold 4,000,000 volumes—nearly fifty per cent more than are now embraced in any library in the world." In national libraries France now leads the world. Hers contains a full million more volumes than that of Great Britain—the next largest. Germany is next in rank and Russia is fourth. The United States comes next in order.

In the Beeriest City in Germany. There has been organized in Munich, which is known as the beeriest city in Germany, a branch of the National association against the abuse of alcoholic drinks. Privy Councilor von Pettenkofer has been elected its president and Professors Dr. Voit and Bollinger are the vice presidents. Noted ecclesiastics, including the Archbishop von Thorna and high military officers are among the promoters. The leader of the movement emphasizes the fact that the use of beer when it reaches a point such as it has in Bavaria gradually undermines the resistibility of the body and the mental energy, and that therefore both from an economical and humanitarian point of view the consumption of beer ought to be restricted.

Smashing Furniture Prices.

Now, hark ye, friends. During the past few months we have been loading up tremendously with Furniture, just because we could get it at about 60 cents on the dollar. The manufacturers had difficulty in getting money to go on with, prices kept dropping as money got tighter, and the result was that for every dollar of our good cash we bought nearly two dollars' worth of their good furniture. The time has come now to sell it, and we are doing it.

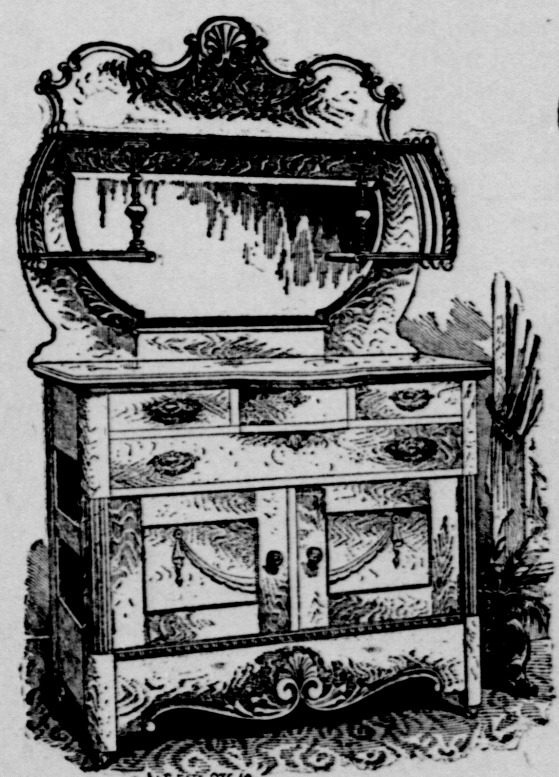

As we Bought, So We Will Sell.

We don't want your money unless we can please you. The prices we are naming should sweep our stock to the four corners of the county in a week's time.

Remember We Carry a Full Line of Baby Carriages.

Get all others We use no partiality. Every prices on baby carriages, squeeze them down to the lowest possible point, then come us and we will sell cheaper. We care not what price is named we can beat it.

Antarctic Icebergs.

Mr. Bruce, of the Dundee Antarctic whaling fleet, describes the whole of the district south of 60 degrees south latitude as strewn with icebergs, which become very numerous south of 62 degrees. The base of the bergs was colored pale brown by marine organisms and other brown streaks were seen beyond the water level. No luminous glow was observed. Clothed in mist they raise their mighty snow-clad shoulders to a stately height, or shine forth brilliantly in the sun. Although they are of the purest white yet they glow with color. The crevices exhibit rich cobaltic blue and everywhere are splashes of emerald green.

Australia's Immigration Problem. Australia is greatly bothered just now by an Indian question akin to our Chinese problem. The Chinese immigration evil has been checked by strong and restrictive measures and the imposition of a heavy head tax. There is now a great and growing influx of Afghans, Panthans and other Asiatic tribes from the odd corners of India, and these people have become a peril and a nuisance in many ways.

BIG CLASS LEAVES THE HIGH SCHOOL.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK PRO- GRAMME NOW READY.

Address Monday Evening Will Be By Rev. W. D. Cole, of Whitewater—Class Exercises Tuesday Evening Names of Those Who Will Take Part in the Ceremonies.

The exercises of commencement week will begin tomorrow. The pastors of the various churches of the city will make education the special theme of their discourses. All pupils and citizens are cordially invited to attend the various services. Some pastors who would like to observe the opening of commencement week in some fitting way, regret that special services of another character will prevent their doing so. Sermons fitting the occasion will be preached by Rev. M. G. Hodge, at the Baptist church, Sunday morning; Rev. George Kaemphlein at St. John's Lutheran church Sunday morning; Rev. W. F. ReQuay, at Court Street M. E. church Sunday morning; Rev. S. P. Wilder, at the Congregational church Sunday evening; Rev. E. H. Pence, at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

On Monday evening at the Myers Opera house, Rev. W. D. Cole of Whitewater, will address the graduating class. All are invited to attend this lecture. The various classes of the High school will appear in their class colors and will have seats reserved for them in the body of the house.

The Cecilian quartette will pass through Janesville on Monday, and have kindly volunteered to furnish a portion of the music for the High school exercises in the evening.

Tuesday evening the graduating class will hold their class exercises at Myers Opera house. This will represent the humorous side of school life rather than its serious side. All who attend this exercise are advised not to confound this with the graduation exercises which come on Thursday afternoon. Class history, prophecy, poem, songs and addresses will constitute the exercises of the evening. The following will take part in the program of class exercises. Volney D. Atwood, Birdie Stoller, Winifred R. Jerome, Clara Bell Paul, Eva Knoff, Nora Lillian Bull, Ada R. Fenton, Nettie Mae Kent, Louise Shearer, May L. Valentia, Eddie Enright, Jennie M. Baker, Nellie McKewan, Helen E. Clark, Harry E. Shawhan. The name of Miss Fenton was accidentally omitted from the list printed last evening.

Thursday at 2:30 p. m. the regular graduating exercises will be given. The pupils who will speak on the occasion are John F. Day, Harry S. Haggart, Harry W. McNamara, Clarence W. Rowe, Cora L. Anderson, Jessie Belle Davey, Minnie Iola Davey, Mary L. Hadden, Harriet McCulloch and Gertrude E. Stoddard. The exercises will be closed by an address by some member of the board of education and the distribution of diplomas. The music for this occasion will be furnished by the Arion Lady Quartette.

On the evening of the same day the Arion Quartette assisted by Miss Lucia B. Griffin will give a grand concert at the Myers opera house. The admission to this entertainment will be fifty and seventy-five cents. Reserved seats may be taken at King & Skelly's next Monday at 12:30 o'clock. All the other entertainments mentioned are free and the public is cordially invited to be present.

Friday evening the Alumni Association will hold their annual reception and reunion. Appropriate exercises have been planned for this occasion.

Mercury Falls and So Does Water.

Forecast: Thunder showers and cooler today and Sunday.

The temperature as recorded by S. C. Burnham & Co. during the last twenty-four hours was as follows: 7 a. m. 62 above 1 p. m. 84 above. Max. 88 above. Min. 52 above. Wind, south.

At King & Skelly's.

J. W. Clark has on exhibition at King & Skelly's bookstore, one of the neatest devices in the shape of a book-case and book-holder one has ever seen. It is Mr. Clark's own idea, and a great improvement over the old style. A large book, such as "Webster's Dictionary," will adjust itself when open, and never break the back. Mr. Clark's object is to manufacture them, and it would be well for all to look into the idea.

Ladies' Silk Shirts.

They are usually a dollar, and they are worth a dollar, but the fact that we have bought twenty-five dozen of them unde, (very much under) price, puts us in the position to offer them in these colors, black, cream, cardinal, pink, blue, salmon, derby ribbed, square cut, low neck, silk ribbon, at less than half price, 49 cents. A silk shirt sale to remember.

ARCHIE REID.

Presented to the Grand Jury.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The cases of the two newspaper correspondents who refused to give the senate committee investigating sugar trust influences the sources of their information were presented to the grand jury today.

TOWN CROWDED BY THE CIRCUS

Every Train Was Jammed by Show-Goers This Morning.

It takes thirty-four large cars to accommodate the Sells Brothers circus paraphernalia. The two trains arrived from Rockford at 4 o'clock this morning. They were sidetracked in the Northwestern yards at the head of West Milwaukee street, the short curves on the siding at Spring Brook making it unsafe to attempt the switching of the long cars nearer the show grounds.

The show drew an immense crowd to the city. Every incoming train was crowded. The train from Mineral Point had more on board than could be accommodated. At Brodhead the cars were crowded so that standing room could not be obtained, and consequently the train arrived here with platforms all crowded.

The parade occurred at 10 o'clock, the streets being packed with people. The display was very fine, indicating somewhat the quality and extent of the show, which includes 420 persons, and 240 horses. The street parade contained thirty vehicles, two brass and one martial band. The display of animals in the menagerie department was good, the two hippotami and the two enormous tigers being the finest specimens ever shown in public. Five great elephants and a drove of camels were a conspicuous part of the display.

The street cars were busy all the afternoon carrying people to the afternoon exhibition, which was very liberally patronized. After the performance tonight the show leaves for Milwaukee over the C. & N. W.

HIS JUMP WAS ALMOST FATAL

Switchman James Mulligan Had a Narrow Escape From Death This Afternoon.

Switchman James Mulligan made what was almost a fatal jump this afternoon. His train started to back down in the yard. A passenger coach was in his way, and he sprang on the passenger coach platform, from which he made a jump for the moving freight.

His head struck the roof of the passenger coach, and he fell head first. As it happened he rolled back away from the wheels of the moving car escaping with a severe cut in his head, another in the knee and a sprained ankle. Dr. Palmer dressed his wounds.

AS SEEN BY JERE MURPHY

Senator M'Pherson's son may yet be president—of the sugar trust.

There is some danger that General Coxe will be forgotten before his epitaph is written.

In courtesy to Governor Altgeld it is still proper to speak of the war in Illinois as a strike.

Senator Quay is unquestionably warranted in objecting to anything which the United Senate is able to agree upon.

It is only fair to European royalty to note that Mr. Lillian Russell the Vith would doubtless have abdicated if he had not been deposed.

The congressmen who know better than to accept a renomination are beginning to line up at the something-equally-as-good counter in Mr. Cleveland's establishment.

Eventually the majority of the people of this country will be found in opposition to the government policy which stops the burning of coal and starts the burning of gun powder.

State Treasurer Hunner seems to be the only man willing to accept the democratic nomination for governor this year; and no doubt Mr. Hunner will be sorry after the usual time has elapsed.

The most enthusiastic supporters of the suggestion that the state administration should be nominated for a third term continue to be those people who are most sanguine that the democrats will be eternally buried in Wisconsin next fall.

Purely as a question of good public policy doesn't the Milwaukee Journal believe that Senator William F. Vilas is morally and justly bound to repay to the United States and the swindled Indians the money which he has accumulated through his peculiar pine land transactions and contracts for pine on Indian reservations?

Secretary Carlisle is a subtle financier, and possibly he has an understanding that the sugar trust will use a portion of the $50,000,000 to be secured from the government by tariff bill concessions to aid in floating the new bond issue which will soon be necessary to defray government expenses.

Senators Vilas and Mitchell voted against the lumber interests of Wisconsin and for the interests of the sugar trusts. The next reform duty will be to whack the life out of the tobacco interests of Wisconsin and bolster up the whisky trust.—Madison Journal.

Treasurer Sims' Debt Discovered.

CHICAGO, June 9.—W. A. Simms, ex-grand secretary and treasurer of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association, who mysteriously disappeared four weeks ago when on his way to the depot to make a train for Evansville, Ind., to attend a meeting of the association, is said to be "sobering up" at the Washington Home. It is rumored he has been in Boston.

CIRCUS DAY CROWD WAS THEIR PREY.

PICKPOCKETS COME WITH THE BIG SELLS SHOW.

Pair of Light-Fingered Youths Arrested While at Work on Milwaukee Street—Mrs. Warren Andrews Lost Her Pocketbook and Other Thefts Were Reported.

Pick-pockets opened up briskly during the circus parade. Mrs. Warren Andrews, of Center, was relieved of her pocket book containing quite a sum of money. Another woman lost a dollar from her dress pocket. Nearly all the trouble occurred on West Milwaukee street, between River and Franklin, an immense crowd being massed there.

For a few minutes there was a lively scramble in front of Mrs. Woodstock's millinery store on West Milwaukee street. An old German woman standing in front of Colvin's bakery missed her pocket book and nine dollars in money. Patrolman Hogan was told and started through the crowd.

"Two young boys were standing close by me," said the old lady in broken English. Hogan overtook a pair of strange boys at Mrs. Woodstock's and shadowed them. Presently they bumped into the crowd in suspicious fashion and Hogan grabbed one, the other taking to his heels. Then men and women tumbled. Al Lee joined the officer, and after a dozen or more people had been tumbled over on the sidewalk the two youngsters were captured and lodged in jail.

Chief Acheson jailed a suspicious looking man who said he was on his way from Oshkosh to Rockford, but who was identified by circus detectives as a hanger-on who had been with the show several days.

KEPT THEIR WEDDING A SECRET

Two Young People of Rockford Came to Janesville to Wed.

It has just leaked out that John I. Fellows, a well-known business man, and Miss Mabel Potter, a society leader in Rockford, slipped away quietly to Janesville last September and were married.

Dr. Metcalf Leads the Y. M. C. A. Meeting

A great opportunity to improve personally and help others by example and many other ways is offered to all men young and old in the city every Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Chorus singing by men, short talks by men, male quartette and orchestra add to the attractions. Men of all nationalities are invited to be present at 3 o'clock. Dr. Walter Metcalf will lead tomorrow, his subject being "Our Possibilities."

Too Busy To Make a List.

We did not anticipate this. We had an idea we could furnish some very low prices on parlor furniture for this issue, but we have been too busy. Since 7 o'clock this morning we have had a tremendous trade. The prices we intended to quote in this issue are competition killers. We will publish the prices Monday.

REMINISCENCE OF THE LATE JOHN HAY.

HE WAS A BORN PATRIOT AND LIVED AS ONE.

When the Slave Question Threatened the Destiny of the Nation He Was for Freedom and Was Promptly Pronounced a Howler and Crank.

FEW READERS OF the newspapers can have failed to note the unusual accent of sincerity in the expressions of regret that were published when John Jay died, within a fortnight of completing his 77th year. Expressions of this kind concerning a citizen so distinguished by his descent and by his long and active participation in public affairs were to be expected as a matter of course, which is as much as to say that they were expected to be perfunctory. But when they proceeded from writers who had known Mr. Jay they were not perfunctory, but were the statements of the charm which he exercised on all those who enjoyed his acquaintance.

Mr. Jay might have passed through life without taking part in its activities. An ample fortune and the best place in American society were secured to him from his birth. He was a scion of one of the most distinguished of the colonial and revolutionary families of New York, and the grandson of that John Jay, first chief-justice of the Supreme court of the United States, of whom Daniel Webster said, in a famous speech, that when the ermine fell upon John Jay it touched nothing that was not as spotless as itself. His birth, his wealth and his tastes seemed to designate him for a life of lettered ease. But his spirit was too ardent to permit sloth. Almost as soon as he had attained his majority he became an active anti-slavery man, at a time when activity in that cause was taken in respectable circles at the north as the mark of an unbalanced mind, if not as an actual brand of social disrepute, and he never faltered in his attachment to the cause, or in his efforts in behalf of it, until the victory had been won. Slavery disposed of he turned his attention to other causes that seemed to him good. He was one of the earliest and most earnest advocates of civil service reform, and was appointed by Gov. Cleveland of New York a member of the state civil service commission. The only conspicuous public office, properly speaking, that he ever held was that of minister to Austria under Gen. Grant. He was never a politician in the ordinary sense of the term, but he was a public spirited citizen, who gave himself heartily and unselfishly to the redress of abuses and to the establishment of what he deemed right principles. Until the infirmities of age overtook him he was an ardent controversialist upon subjects some of which the ordinary politicians regard as too burning to be safely handled. One of these was the relation of church and state. That was one of the topics on which an ardent controversialist would be apt both to exhibit and to excite rancorous feelings. But there was no rancor in John Jay. His courtesy disarmed the hostility his outspokenness might have created, and it is not likely that his controversies ever made him a personal enemy. Certainly that must have been a rooted hostility that could withstand the benignity and the charm of his presence, or that could have affronted a man so utterly incapable of rudeness on his own part. Mr. Jay's public career, if it may be called so, was a life-long illustration of the advantage of being a gentleman.

The Newspaper Coupon.

The newspaper coupon business grows, and is spreading to include about everything which mankind needs, so that it does not require a very flighty imagination to conceive of a time when one may live well, dress well, enjoy all the comforts and recreations of life, pay doctor's bills and finally arrange with the undertaker with no more trouble than is required to clip a coupon and pass it over to the cashier in the newspaper counting-room. A New England journal offers the Keeley cure, or something equivalent to it, to its patrons, absolutely free, on presentation of five coupons.

THE BLIZZARD.

A piercing shriek, a maddening swirl, And the blinding storm is on. The windswept branches writhe and curl. The fence and the road are gone. Not a landmark remains on the yawning plains. And the storm and the night are one. There are needles of sleet in the icy blast That pushes against the pane. There are choking billows of snow that east Their eddying depths amain. And whirl with a cry through the falling sky That moves upon the plain. Against the stack in huddled fear The unhoused cattle wait. From out the storm rack, shrill and clear, A horse neighs for his mate. While a man in the storm with sturdy form Is battling with his fate. Alas! oh, storm, for the days that dawn When thy secrets shall be read. Alas! for the aching hearts at home, With their sickening weight of dread. Alas! for the one who will not come Till the snows give up their dead. —Youth's Companion.

GUILTY HANDS.

Yes, sir, it was the spring of 1865. You could tell that from the way the clouds blew up from Richmond, but the inhabitants of "ole Squire Godbolt's" quarters were the only ones who knew that sign. Marm Huldry originated the idea. She would stand in the midst of a conclave of woolly heads, and pointing to shadowy clouds just rising above the horizon would roll her eyes in most oracular fashion, and her words would emerge ponderously, as the telling blows of a sledge hammer.

"De smoke am 'cendin'," she would say, "and de Yanks am hittin' hard. Chillun, we am gwine to lebe here soon."

No one doubted her. They had great faith in Marm Huldry, and she told their fortunes in coffee grounds and chased the witches away from their beds. But there was one man who did not believe in signs. That was Terror Fire. He would grunt disdainfully at her prognostications and heap ridicule upon her signs.

"Nebber yo' min, Terror Fire," she would scream wrathfully, "some ob my signs am gwine ter be yo' ondoin. Now, yo' min. Yo' ain't done been bit fo' times by a moccasin fer nuttin. Dat's sign enuff dat de debil am in yer. Now, all yo' niggers hear me talkin'?"

"We hears yo', Marm Huldry," they would say, and Terror Fire would laugh a loud, slow laugh and trot off to his cabin. He was great, Terror was. He was the surly, cynical Diogenes of the plantation, and Squire Godbolt often found it in his heart to obstruct some of his sunshine, and once he was aided and abetted by Marm Huldry. You see it came about this way:

Attached to the "big house" and not far from the quarters there was a poultry yard, and in this poultry yard there flourished and grew many fowls of both sexes. They were beautiful birds and the pride of Mrs. Godbolt's heart. Very well. There were more hens than roosters; consequently the latter were rare and much prized. However, there were several roosters, but one big fellow, who was sultan of the harem. He "ruled the roost," and every morning just at day his voice was the first living sound to be heard. This fellow was named Adam and was the apple of Mrs. Godbolt's eye. She knew his crow from all the others and every morning would arouse herself to catch the liquid notes of his early salutation; then she would fall asleep again, satisfied that he was there.

But one day she awoke and listened, and listened in vain, for the call of the chanticleer. The shades of midnight vanished, and the rising sun peeped in through the cracks, and still no sound had roused the sleeping world. Not a cock had crowed. They were waiting for the great lord to have his "say," but the great lord's voice was silent, and Mrs. Godbolt's heart shuddered within her. She awoke the squire, and together they repaired to the fowlhouse. There, on the roosts and in the nests and on the ground, were all the chickens, safe and sound, all but—Adam. Mrs. Godbolt gave a little scream, and the squire rushed into the house and blew the horn. Madly, fiercely, he blew it, and the sounds brought all the negroes into the yard.

"Now," said Squire Godbolt, "I want you all to listen, for I have got something to say. You are all paying attention?"

"Yes, sah," they chorused, and Marm Huldry whispered, "De 'mancipation am done come; desmoke am a 'cendin' from Richmond."

But she was wrong; the next words showed how wrong, and scattered all ecstatic hopes.

"Well," roared the squire, "Adam is gone, and I am going to find him. Now, the nigger who has that rooster step up and hand him over."

His words fell like a thunderbolt. They all knew Adam, and they saw from the squire's determined look that he meant what he said.

"Hand him over," reiterated the squire, and every negro's knees shook.

tonight at 7 o'clock I want to see you all back in this yard—every chick and child." And they departed.

Many of them shunned Marm Huldry's cabin during the day, but the old woman was busy up at the "big house" and was not aware of it.

Night came and with it all the hands from the quarters. They were all there at 7 o'clock sharp. Ten minutes past Squire Godbolt came out and after him Marm Huldry and two boys with a great, black pot. The squire drew a circle and placed the inverted pot in the center. Then he turned to the crowd.

"Now," he said, "all of you see that pot? Well, that is to decide who stole Adam." There was a show of interest. "Adam is gone, and he has got to be found, or his approximate whereabouts. Now, all of you step up. I am going to extinguish the light, and it will be dark. Then all of you walk around that pot, touching it with your two hands as you pass. Let your palms come down full upon it. You all see that pot. It has been washed, but after the test and the light is turned on the guilty man will have soot upon his hands. Now, out with the light, and here goes."

They formed in a ring and around the pot they passed, some slapping it hard so the sound could be heard.

"There, now!" called the squire, "all around. Very well. On with the light and hand up your hands."

The light was made and the negroes passed by for inspection. But what was their consternation, for on every pair of hands there was a coat of soot! One by one they came, with sorrow depicted on their faces—all but Terror Fire's. He grinned broadly and showed the whites of his eyes philosophically.

"Come on," called the squire, and Terror stepped up glibly. "Hold out your hands." He passed them out, and, lo and behold, they were clean!

"Ah," said the squire, "here is the rogue," and Terror's grin folded behind his ears.

"He was afraid to touch the pot. He was afraid the soot would stick to his hands. Now, Terror, up and confess." Terror's knees shook beneath him, but the evidence was convincing. Was there not a half of Adam still hidden under the bed?

He confessed, and some more of his sunshine was obstructed. Marm Huldry laughed and shook her fat sides with glee.

"What I tell yo'?" she asked. "What I tell yo', Terror Fire? Dis nigger am no fool—she know, an I tell yo' dat sign nebber fail. De smoke am 'cendin' from Richmond, an dese niggers' gwine left here soon, but I tell yo', Terry, de signs am dat yo's gwine left yo' hide behin."—Elizabeth A. Hines in Atlanta Constitution.

Plants and Animals.

The reasons why a plant should always be called a plant, and an animal an animal, are not always very apparent. An animal is a conscious being. I mean that it knows how to discriminate between this and that, reasons about what is good for it, rejects what experience has informed it is not good for it and has special senses. It is a conscious being—indeed reasons, discriminates.

Here is a great gulf between the animal and the plant! Most of us are ready to acknowledge such simple truths, and we are all wrong, for the differences when sifted are only those of a greater and lesser degree. Some plants like shade; some like light. Why? Well, why do we under some circumstances prefer dark and under others light? When we are healthy, we can digest meat and reject with good reason a meal of sticks and stones. A carnivorous plant receives and digests a proportionate meat meal, but feed it with pebbles and bits of stick, and it refuses to receive such dainties. We bend beneath a blow, we protect ourselves from further injuries that we judge may follow—so do the sensitive plants.

With the aid of a specialist in this class of work I am trying to demonstrate the presence of nervous tissue in plants. So far we have not been successful, but the circumstantial evidence is so strong that we may feel quite certain that better methods of demonstration will give ocular evidence of what we seek. The proofs of the struggle for existence in both animal and plant life have been prettily told by Taylor.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Slang, Cant and Argot.

Mr. Hayward said that we must be careful in dealing with Elizabethan slang not to judge it entirely by present day standards. Much of it is now recognized English, while much of our modern slang was good Elizabethan English. The word "slang" is of comparatively modern origin. The older word, which "slang" to some extent replaces, is "cant," the name given to the secret language of thieves, rogues and vagabonds, introduced into England by the gypsies in the reign of Henry VIII. Harrison, in his description of Elizabethan England, records that the first deviser of "Canting" or "Poddler's French" was hanged by the neck.

The "cant" language was a strange medley of Hebrew, Latin, Sanskrit, Greek, Wallachian, Spanish, Flemish, Dutch, Celtic and bastard Italian. The practice of such speech is worldwide. We have the French "argot," the Spanish "Germania," the Italian "gergo," and even the vagabonds among the Hotentots have their secret language, known as "curze cat." The first lexicographer to recognize the word "slang" in its present sense was Grose, in 1785. Thomas Harman, in his "Caveat or Warning to Common Curstors" (1566), describes 23 varieties of rogues and vagabonds and gives a list of cant words and their meaning.—Academy.

Refused on Principle.

"No," said the young woman haughtily in response to his request as they sat on the porch in the twilight. "I will not let you hold my hand. I don't believe in such conduct for a young lady."

"And besides," she added after a pause, "it isn't dark enough yet."—Chicago Record.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact. Instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorders arising therefrom they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., L. B., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the statement, and his Restorative Nerve is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

Restorative Nerve positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.

That Shaw

Will become the property of some popular young lady within the next four weeks.

We do not dare to predict who will get it, but a "dark horse" is talked of and the ballots will come in with a rush within the next three weeks, therefore those interested want to redouble their energies so that their particular favorite will not be behind in this popular contest.

A Word About the Shaw Piano

The first pianos made by the company were placed on the market less than five years ago. Instantly the trade recognized their merits and put in bids for territory until at this time these instruments can be seen almost everywhere. To be able to build such a good business in so short a time there must be great policy behind the house. The policy of the Shaw Piano Company, is first to build a good instrument, second, to advertise it largely and artistically. The first part of the policy, to build a good instrument, is amply testified to by the favor they have met with both from dealer and artist.

The Shaw Piano is strictly a high grade first-class instrument, one that the purchasing public can have every confidence in. Messrs. S. C. Burnham & Co., of our city have for years been representing other first-class pianos but have been won by the construction, tone and quality of this new aspirant for honors so that today they are bending all their energies in favor of the Matchless Shaw, as it is termed. With no remorse of conscience they claim it is the finest musical instrument in the piano line they have ever represented.

Judging from the above account of this wonderful piano is it any wonder that the contest now going on is attracting universal attention. Rally round your favorite lady, boys. See that she becomes the happy possessor of a SHAW.

Catarrh AND GOLD IN THE HEAD relieved instantly by one application of Birney's Catarrh Powder. REV. FATHER CLARKE, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes: "Gentlemen—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh which nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples are quite enthusiastic over it. The good virtues speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the Hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy to help others who are suffering." M. E. FERGUSON, Custodian U. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes: "Gentlemen—Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrh Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 18 inches from my ear. I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve." years old last year and trotted in 2:07 at New York, establishing a new record for stallions and a new 4-year-old stallion record. Later in the season he trotted in 2:05 1/4 at Nashville. This year Directum will be after the world's record, 2:04, held by Nancy Hanks.

Catcher Charles A. Farrell.

This year the New York club paid $7,500 for the release of Catcher Charles A. Farrell and Pitcher Jonett Meekin. The Washington club, with which Farrell and Meekin made a great record last year, got the money, and Farrell is receiving a salary of $400 a month from the New York club. Farrell is one of the greatest catchers now behind the bat. He was a member of the Chicago club in 1890 and deserted to the Players' league. He has also played with Indianapolis and Pittsburg.

Bicyclist Frank Waller.

Frank Waller, the ex-amateur wheelman who recently went to France to race for cash, was born in Munich 31 years ago. He made a new 24 hour rec-career in 1893 as a member of the Cincinnati club, but did not get a fair trial and was released. His good work with the Chattanooga club attracted widespread attention, and the Brooklyn signed him. On Aug. 10, 1893, Daub held the Washingtons down to two safe hits and one run.

FEAR ATTACK ON PEKIN JAIL.

Soldiers Guarding the Place Against an Attempt to Release Geher.

PEKIN, Ill., June 9.—Ex-Representative John L. Geher, the leader of last Wednesday's mob at Wesley City, has been arrested and lodged in jail. Fearing the striking miners will come here and forcibly release him Sheriff Frederick has a company of militia and 100 armed deputies guarding the jail. Considerable excitement prevails here. Geher was found at 3 o'clock yesterday morning by deputy sheriffs of Peoria county in a boarding-house at Edwards station. They say he was getting ready to leave these parts. The only evidence on which this opinion was based is the fact that since Wednesday's bloody affair he had disguised himself by shaving off his whiskers.

Edward Little says his brother could have shot Geher a dozen times, but every time he saw him the leader had his hands up in the air motioning to the rioters to go back and stop shooting. Several of the strikers say the deputies sympathized with them.

The coroner's jury here was in session all day trying to get testimony sufficient to justify the issuing of warrants for fifty or more of the rioters whose names had been furnished them by the sheriffs. Difficulty was encountered in getting some one able to identify the men needed.

At 9 o'clock last night the sheriff received a telephone message from Peoria stating that 750 strikers had started to Pekin from Bartonville. Reports came in also that 150 were encamped in the timber west of the river and a like number north between here and Wesley City. The sheriff says furthermore the Bartonville crowd will receive reinforcements from Minook, Streator, and La Salle if the strikers at those places can possibly get here.

HILLSBORO, Ill., June 9.—There was a riot last night among the Italian miners here caused by some of the strikers attacking men who had refused to quit work. A number of the rioting strikers were injured. Forty miners are still working in the mines and more trouble is feared.
